We started to create About-us section. In that about us section, we have added our team member's information. It contains the images of each three team members of Team CodeHolics who have built this website. The images are aligned perfectly in the grid. We have added an hover effect which makes the About us Section more attractive. The user when drag the mouse pointer to the image of any particular team member, then an hover effect will get-up converting that particular grid into white color. When hover effect gets-up on the particular image on which user has kept the mouse pointer, all the information related to the particular team member is displayed. It contains the name of the Team Member, their post in the team, and the role assigned to them on which they have worked on to make this website.
